

CERUSE

Digital art by Chris Bridgeman BA Hons.
For interior designers, architects and collectors.

CERUSE

Much of my work is digital as this is my primary means of expression. I create works in this medium and photography that hopefully draw the viewer in to find a place of an alternate reality with an emotional connection.

My artwork serves to stimulate a personal response, the interpretation is contemplative and personal to the viewer.

My visual language and use of colour is greatly influenced by 25 years as a Lancashire based graphic designer. Ceruse is in essence - unbridled creativity.

The aesthetic of my work resonates with modern interior designers, architects and collectors of contemporary British fine art.

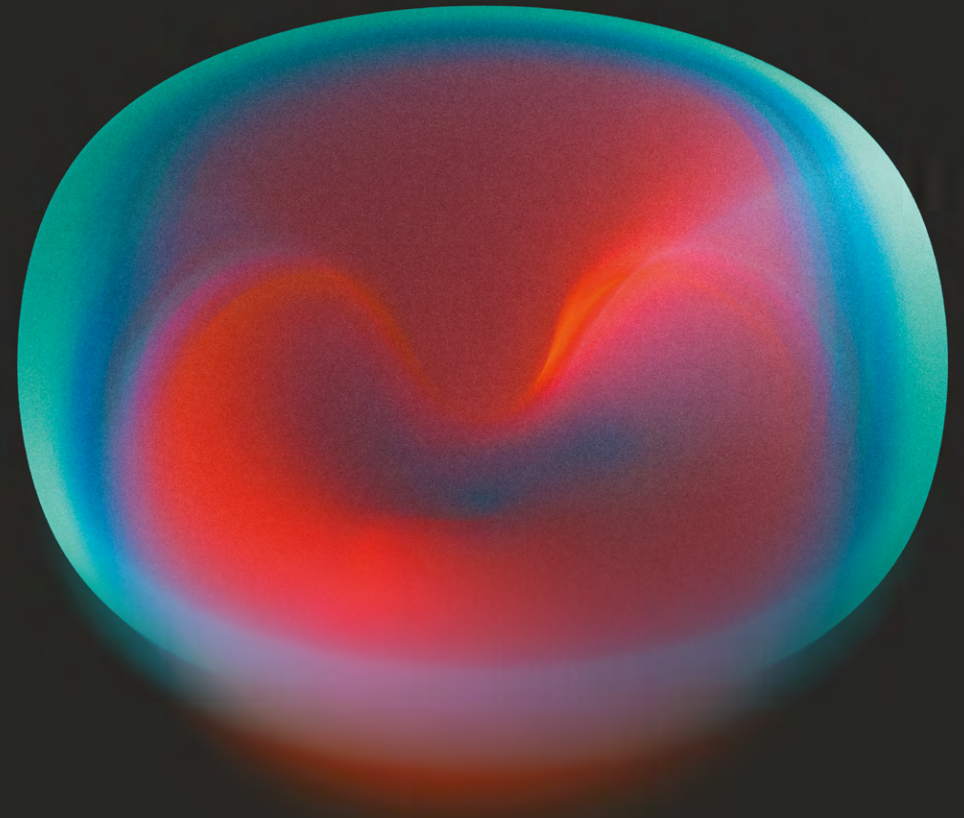

A little about the art... I use either a photographic process to expose the print (C-Type), or super high archival grade 12 ink print. As with professional photographs and paintings, these should be kept away from direct sunlight. Prints are originals not copies.

I am not interested in mass market items, and prefer to control all aspects of production. I provide unique artworks of enduring quality and original thought. Only available through the site.
